

A Note From Sascha

It has been a fabulous fall! From Self Portraits to Janet Davis and sculpture, there has been a myriad of projects created by students, each in a unique way. Great job students!

Thank you for welcoming Art Instructor, Beth Marquis, to F.A.S. this fall...as well as Manga/Cartooning Instructors Blaise, Heather, and Kristina. It's great to have you with us!

It is always nice to see families present and involved in "Parent Visit" time on the third class of the month. No matter your child's age, sharing artwork is essential to personal and artistic growth. Thank you for being early to participate in this special time.

See you in the studio! -Sascha

School's Out Workshops!

School is out and Fine Art Starts is the place to be! Parents finish errands while kids make original, snazzy creations! Please pick up a yellow flier in the studio which lists multiple individual upcoming, fun art workshops for kids!

During in-service, holiday, or teacher planning days, students will have an opportunity to spend most of their day in the studio trying new medias, projects, and making art!

Each workshop is theme-based. You may sign up for just one, a combination of workshops, or for all of them! These popular workshops have been a hit for years. Space is limited! Please call to register: 503.723.9661

Volunteers Needed

Twice a year an art show for all Fine Art Starts students is held to display the recent artistic accomplishments of our students. Past art shows have drawn over 300 guests who admire all the creative endeavors of students of all ages. Parents make up a very large part of behind-the-scenes preparation for each art show and we rely on them for the success of the art show.

Some of the art show preparation tasks include: matting artwork, organizing shelves, general cleaning, typing labels for artwork, hanging artwork, putting tags on art, and other various jobs. No experience necessary...we will train!

Any amount of volunteer time is helpful either the week before the art show (12/7 - 12/11) or during the art show (12/12/09).

Please become involved by filling out and turning in the attached slip to the front desk. THANK YOU!
